

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Management Board of the ESIL-SEDI Interest Group on International Bio Law has the pleasure to invite you to the International Seminar The European Approach to International Bio Law in Valencia (Spain) the 13th of September 2012, from 9:30 to 12:30, coinciding with the 5th ESIL Biennial Conference “Regionalism and International Law” 13-15 September 2012.

This International Seminar has as objective to analyze from an European approach the international legal scenario for Bio Law under a specific and autonomous methodology according to a comprehensive framework of study to be carried out by a new epistemic community among ius internationalists. The Panels will be the following:

First Panel (9:30 – 10:15): International, legal and institutional action on addressing to Bio Law

Second Panel (10:15 – 11): Human Rights, Environment, International Trade, Risk Regulations and Bio Law.

Third Panel (11 – 11:45): Analysis and Perspectives for the EU position on International Bio Law.

Fourth Panel (11:45 – 12:30): Prospect of future (feminism and International Bio Law, Terrorism, Peace and Security and International Bio Law)

Requirements for submission of papers:

Languages for papers: English

The deadline for submission of summaries of the papers is February 1st, 2012. The summary must fit on two sheets of A4 paper (font: Times New Roman; size: 12pt, with 1.5 line spacing) with a brief CV attached.

The author will be informed whether the paper has been accepted or not on March 1st, 2012.

The complete text of the paper will be submitted for publication before June 30th, 2012. The paper should not exceed 15 pages (font: Times New Roman; size: 12pt, with 1.5 line spacing; 10pt for footnotes and one space between lines).

More information:

esiligbiolaw@us.es

Management:

Dr. Daniel García San José (University of Sevilla, Spain)

Dr. José Manuel Sánchez Patrón (University of Valencia, Spain)